RELIEF PRINTMAKING

at the Carbondale Public Library

FREE for TEENS 12-18

November 7th & 14th, 4:00 - 5:30 PM

Are you interested in art? Do you want to give back during the holiday season? Join us for two FREE printmaking workshops at the Carbondale Public Library. We will be creating relief prints for donation to the "For Kids' Sake Art Auction," which takes place every year at the Longbranch Café in Carbondale. Donated prints will be framed, hung at the café in spring 2017, and auctioned off. All proceeds benefit orphans and students in Bangladesh.

Make one (or more) print to keep and one to donate. Attend one or both sessions. Different printmaking techniques will be explored each week and all materials will be provided. Artist and art instructor, Jennifer Johansson will be on hand to provide guidance and project ideas. No registration necessary.
