

MOKUME GANE TUTORIAL

Supplies:

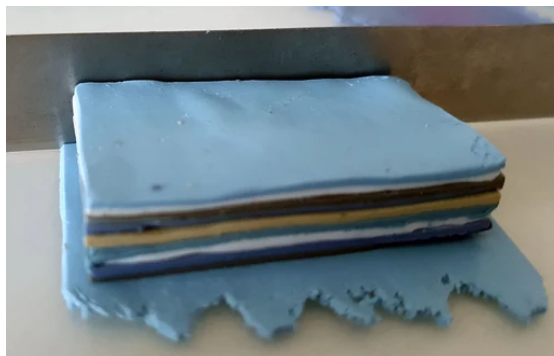

- several colors of clay
- several cutters in different shapes
- drilling tool

1. First we'll make long sheets of clay, one for each color you choose.

2. Take a rectangle out of the smallest sheet. This way you will have the perfect dimension for all sheets. Take the rectangle and add it to the next color. Do this in order you want.

3. After you finalized the process, you'll have a 3d rectangle. It will look like the one in the below picture.

4. Use the roller to press the sheets and make them thinner.

5. Cut the thinner piece into half and combine them as shown below.

6. Let the fun begin! We'll use cutters/molds and make a pattern.

7. Now all that's left is to "reduce" the sheet's shape. Slowly we'll start to press it from the base to the top in order to eliminate the bubbles. The top is the one with the pattern you just created.

8. To get slices of your design, make sure you cut along the layers, not against them!
